

Study in Australia Information for Australian Citizens

Australian citizens and permanent residents of Australia seeking information about school, TAFE and tertiary education in Australia need to contact the relevant university admission centre or the relevant Department of Education in the state or territory where they wish to study. Each Australian state and territory has a different requirement applicable only to Australian citizens and permanent residents.

The Australian Consulate-General in Hong Kong suggests that all Australians contact the relevant Australian authorities directly for current information on enrolments for school, TAFE and tertiary education. Students can visit the websites listed below for up to date information about Australian education and training.
